

Rimska valuta Roman currency

IVA GRCIC
4. G
OSNOVE EKONOMIJE
PROF. MARTINA JERKOVIC

Rimski novac u upotrebi tokom većeg dijela trajanja Rimske Republike i kasnije, u zapadnom dijelu Rimskog Carstva bio je izrađen od metala i imao nekoliko denominacija.

Roman money in use for most of the Roman Republic and later, in the western part of the Roman Empire, was made of metal and had several denominations.

Na rimskim carskim novcima nalaze se (uz vrlo rijetke iznimke) natpisi i likovi glava vladara ili članova njihovih obitelji. Natpis na aversu novca često objašnjava lik, odnosno glavu osobe na njemu prikazane.

Roman imperial coins contain (with very few exceptions) inscriptions and figures of the heads of rulers or members of their families. The inscription on the obverse of the money often explains the figure, ie the head of the person depicted on it.

Rimljani od 4. st. pr. Kr. kuju brončani novac nazvan as. Senat je uglavnom proizvodio brončani i bakreni novac. U vrijeme širenja Republike i sve češćih trgovačkih susreta s Grcima Senat počinje proizvoditi i srebrni novac. Carevi su imali privilegiju izdavati srebrni i zlatni novac.

Romans from the 4th century BC. forge a bronze coin called an ace. The Senate mainly produced bronze and copper coins. At the time of the expansion of the Republic and the increasing number of trade meetings with the Greeks, the Senate began to produce silver money. The emperors had the privilege of issuing silver and gold coins.

Sve više osvajanja u Rim donosi više ratnoga plijena. Povećana količina zlata potaknula je kovanje zlatnoga novca. Od 1. st. pr. Kr. Rimljani kuju zlatne aureuse.

More and more conquests bring more spoils of war to Rome. The increased amount of gold encouraged the minting of gold coins. From the 1st century BC. The Romans forge golden aureuses.

U vrijeme Konstantina I. Velikog počinje se kovati zlatni solidus.

In the time of Constantine I the Great, the golden solidus began to be minted.

RIMSKI NOVAC

ROMAN MONEY

HVALA NA POZORNOSTI!